DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 24, 25, 28, 29, 30-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lund et al. (US 5659342) in view of Tsuboi et al. (US 2002/0101472).

Lund et al. discloses a recording method for recording an image on a recording medium by using a recording head capable of ejecting a first ink droplet and a second ink droplet (Abstract: The printhead spits ink drops on page or in the spittoon, wherein the ink drops purged in the spittoon is the claimed first ink drops and the ink drops purged on page is the claimed second ink drops), said method comprising the steps of:

causing the recording head to eject the first ink droplet without ejecting the second ink droplet, regardless of an image to be recorded, to a region including a neighborhood of an end of the recording medium (The printhead purges ink drops in the spittoon); and causing the recording head to eject the second ink droplet without ejecting the first ink droplet, regardless of an image to be recorded, to a region including a central portion of the recording medium (The printhead spits ink drops on page).

Lund et al. however does not teach wherein the second ink drop having size smaller than that of the first ink droplet.

Art Unit: 2853

Tsuboi et al. discloses an ink jet recording apparatus that performing an on-page preliminary ejecting operation by ejecting a small amount of ink so that dots formed on a print sheet are not noticeable (Abstract).

Therefore, it would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to modify Lund's on-page purging to eject a small amount of ink in order to form un-noticeable dots on a print sheet as taught by Tsuboi et al. (Abstract).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 20-23 and 26-27 are allowed. The Applicant's Declaration dated 11/10/2008 antedates and disqualifies the Nunokawa reference as a prior art. Claims 20-23 and 26-27 are allowable over the Nunokawa reference accordantly.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 24, 25, 28, 29, 30-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment, dated 3/18/2008, necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
